To most modern readers the book of Ezekiel is a mystery. Few can handle Ezekiel's relentless denunciations, his unconventional antics, his repetitive style, and his bewildering array of topics. This excellent commentary by Daniel I. Block makes sense of this obscure and often misunderstood prophet and demonstrates the relevance of Ezekiel's message for the church today.

Report of the Adjutant General

Another weighty regimental history, two volumes, 820 pages in all covering the record of twenty-two battalions in France, Flanders, Italy and Gallipoli (all of them served on the Western Front). When war broke out the regiment consisted of two Regular battalions (1st and 2nd), two Special Reserve (3rd and 4th) and four Territorial battalions (5th to 8th); the 1st Battalion went to France with 6th Division in September 1914, the 2nd Battalion came home from Malta to join the newly formed 8th Division (Regular) and went to France in November 1914. Both battalions remained in the same brigades (18th and 23rd) and divisions throughout the war. The four Territorial battalions each formed a 2nd and a 3rd line battalion; the four original battalions made up the 146th Brigade, 49th (West Riding) Division, arriving in France in April 1915, the second line battalions combined to make the 185th Brigade, 62nd (2nd West Riding) Division which arrived in France in January 1917. Kitchener's call to arms resulted in eleven Service battalions being raised, 9th to 18th (the 17th was formed as a Bantam battalion) and 21st; of these only 13th and 14th did not go on active service. The 21st Battalion became a Pioneer battalion in 4th Division and the 22nd was a Labour battalion which also went to France. This history records events in chronological order, the dates of the operations being described are shown in the margin as are the identities of the battalions involved. Volume 1 (x + 355pp with 18 maps and 15 b/w photos) covers the period from the outbreak of war to the end of 1916, the close of the Somme offensive and includes the Dardanelles campaign where the 9th Battalion was in action with the 11th (Northern) Division. On 1st July 1916, the first day of the Somme, the 10th Battalion attacked at Fricourt and incurred the heaviest casualties of any battalion - 710, of whom 307 were killed including the CO, 2IC, adjutant and two company commanders. More than half of them are in Fricourt New Military Cemetery which is in the No Man's Land across which they attacked and where they died. The CO (Lt Col Dickson) and his adjutant (Capt Shann) lie side by side. There is a Roll of Honour for the period covered in which the other ranks are listed alphabetically by battalions as are the Territorial battalion officers; the other officers are shown in one group in alphabetical order with the battalion number in front of the name. Although the note at the head of the officer casualty list states that the theatre in which death occurred is France and Flanders unless otherwise indicated, nonetheless 'Gallipoli' is not shown against the names of the officers of the 9th Battalion who died there, and so one is left with the wrong impression they died on the Western front.

This completely revised and updated second edition of The New Testament in Antiquity skillfully develops how Jewish, Hellenistic, and Roman cultures formed the essential environment in which the New Testament authors wrote their books and letters. Understanding of the land, history, and culture of the ancient world brings remarkable new insights into how we read the New Testament itself. Throughout the book, numerous features provide windows into the first-century world. Nearly 500 full color photos, charts, maps, and drawings have been carefully selected. Additional features include sidebars that integrate the book's material with issues of interpretation, discussion questions, and bibliographies.

Chronological and Statistical History of Cotton

Philip Schaff's 'The Collected Works' encompass an impressive and comprehensive exploration of Christian doctrinal history, offering an erudite synthesis of the religion's development from its inception up until the Reformation. His meticulous chronicling in 'History of the Christian Church', spanning eight volumes, serves as a testament to the intricate weaving of theological, cultural, and historical threads of early Christianity to the dawn of modernity. The literary execution is marked by a rigorously academic tone, replete with insightful analysis and extensive research that situates this opus within the broader landscape of ecclesiastical literature. Meanwhile, 'The Creeds of Christendom', a three-volume endeavor, provides exhaustive commentary on various denominational beliefs, evidencing the complex evolution of Christian thought and scholarship. Philip Schaff, renowned church historian and theologian, brought to these works not only his vast erudition but also his unique perspective as an immigrant echoing the reconciliatory goals of the American Religious landscape of the 19th century. His works reflect a lifetime devoted to understanding the diversity of Christian traditions and the underlying unity of Christian thought. Schaff's German roots and subsequent adoption of American scholarship allowed him to bridge continental theological traditions, ultimately shaping his meticulous approach to historical theology and ecumenism. Scholars, theologians, and serious students of Christian history will find 'The Collected Works' an invaluable addition to their libraries. Schaff's unparalleled depth of research and his ability to span across various traditions and epochs with clarity and authority make this collection a cornerstone reference for the study of Christian creeds and their historical contexts. His balanced and thorough treatment of such a vast subject matter is an enduring contribution to theological studies and an essential guide for those seeking to understand the heritage and doctrine of the Christian faith.
