The pacing of this section is exquisitely timed, allowing the emotional weight to unfold naturally. There is a heightened energy that drives each page, created not by external drama, but by the characters' moral reckonings. In What Should I Major In, the narrative tension is not just about resolution—it's about acknowledging transformation. What makes What Should I Major In so remarkable at this point is its refusal to tie everything in neat bows. Instead, the author allows space for contradiction, giving the story an earned authenticity. The characters may not all achieve closure, but their journeys feel true, and their choices echo human vulnerability. The emotional architecture of What Should I Major In in this section is especially intricate. The interplay between action and hesitation becomes a language of its own. Tension is carried not only in the scenes themselves, but in the shadows between them. This style of storytelling demands a reflective reader, as meaning often lies just beneath the surface. In the end, this fourth movement of What Should I Major In demonstrates the book's commitment to emotional resonance. The stakes may have been raised, but so has the clarity with which the reader can now see the characters. It's a section that lingers, not because it shocks or shouts, but because it honors the journey.
